Local newspapers: anti-German feelings running high with rumours of German atrocities which came to a head with the sinking of the Lusitania with mainly civilian casualties. This led to riots in East London with attacks and looting of German and Austrian shops. Riots took place over several days/weeks including Tuesday 11 May and Wednesday 12 May 1915.

East London Advertiser - Saturday 22 May:

"Other fires occurred at:

St Leonard's Road, Bromley-by-Bow to premises of Messrs. G. Egner and Sons, butchers".

Similar entry appears in Eastern Post - Saturday 15 May.

East End News - Tuesday 11 May - reported sinking of Lusitania

East End News - Friday 14 May:

"The firm of C Egner and Son, pork and beef butchers, St Leonard's-road, suffered as badly as any place along the road. The place was set on fire, though fortunately not too severely for the fireman's efforts, and every window in the shop and bakehouse was broken and the frames taken out."

There were accounts of half a dozen Germans going to Smithfields to buy meat for their shops. When the porters realised they were Germans they chased them along the road to Aldgate.

East London Observer - Saturday 22 May:

"... no fewer than 80 charges arising out of the attacks on German shops in the East End."

"...there were a number of German and Austrian shops in Cable Street."

In the House of Commons on Monday 17 May, Mr King asked a question of the Home Secretary concerning the anti-German riots. Mr McKenna responded that 257 people had been injured including 107 police and special constables. 866 people had been arrested.

Letters appeared in the papers which acknowledged the provocation leading to these attacks, but deplored them for making innocent people the target of such behaviour.

Information from David Warncken, Sydney, Australia

Email 1:

I am a ggg-gs of GEORGE BINER and SARAH BUDGEN. Their eldest daughter, Sarah Ann, married Christian Warncken in Bethnal Green in 1844. According to my quick calculations this makes us 4th cousins. Like your Georg Heinrich Egner, my Christian was born in Germany. Unfortunately I have not as yet been able to ascertain where. My immediate folk lived in London's eastern regions (St Geo East through to West Ham and back again) for much of the next century. The families of two of Christian and Sarah's sons moved to the Tottenham area in the 1880s.

If you are interested, you can find more of my findings about the Biners and Budgens at

<http://freepages.genealogy.rootsweb.com/~warncken/index.htm>

You can also find references to the Wellbrocks at Bryan Mawer's Sugar Refiners & Sugarbakers Database at - www.mawer.clara.net/intro.html

Email 2:

I mentioned Bryam Mawer's website in my previous email. Bryan Mawer and I swapped several emails a couple of years ago. They originally stemmed from his interest in workers in sugar refineries and as you are probably aware there were many of these London's East End in the 19th century. It turns out that my Christian Warncken was a "carpenter in a sugar refinery" which definitely interested Bryan. His knowledge of the St Geo East is amazing. Along the way, Bryan provided a lot of other miscellaneous information from his records including the following.

* The regs of St Geo confirm that the entry for Johann H Welbrock was the baptism of his daughter Hannah Sophia, b. 1 Oct 1849, bpt 4 Nov 1849, mother Harriet Sofia Binat of London. No further references to Binat/Biner in those regs or those of St Pauls. There are a number of other Welbrock entries if you decide to investigate further ... including JHW's daughter Catharine Adelaine W, 20, who married JJH Bettjemann, 1877. JHW shown as labourer. Biner is not a surname I'm familiar with in either English or German, but she was "of London."

Yesterday I went to London hunting for refinery workers. One or two names may interest you .....

* HO107-1545-471

At 16 Fieldgate St, in the accomodation of the refinery of Friend & Boden, was Martin Welbrock, 51, of Hanover.

* HO107-1552-88

At 1 Gloucester St was living ...

Martin Welbrock, 50, sugarbaker, b. Germany.

Susan, wife, 51, b. Yarmouth.

Martin, son, 24, labourer, b. Stepney.

Henry, son, 17, servant, b. Stepney.

Samuel, son, 14, servant, b. Stepney.

William, son, 11, school, b. Stepney.

John, son, 9, school, b. Stepney.

[ My thought is that these two Martin Welbrocks are one of the same. Did he get counted at work, then visited at home, by two different enumerators

?? Gloucester St joins Fieldgate St opposite the refinery, and no 1 would have been no more than 20yds from work !! ]

* HO107-1547-47

At 57 Betts St, under the forman Carsten Betjeman, was George Welbrock, 27, of Hanover.

* HO107-1554-347

At refinery of E Goodhart., Son & Co, in Horseferry Rd, Stepney, was Diederick Welbrock, 29, unmarried, of Germany.
